

2025 Publication Award Winner – Dave Dyer

The Road to San Jacinto: Retracing the Route of Sam Houston's Army

Dave Dyer is a writer, investor, and part-time radio talk show host on a financial show. His academic background is in philosophy, and he taught symbolic logic and philosophy while at the University of Michigan before moving to Houston to work in the software industry. He left corporate life in 1999 to invest and write full-time. He has published scores of articles on a variety of subjects including history, social issues, and investments. His longer works include two peer-reviewed history books. The first, “Steels,” was about a forgotten retail tycoon from the 1920’s who invented the infomercial with a silent film. The current one, “The Road to San Jacinto,” is about San Houston’s trip from Gonzales to San Jacinto during the Texas Revolution.
